

MOLLWITZ SEEKS REVENGE; GETS IT, BUT LOSES BASEBALL JOB

Chase Bids Fair to Supplant Mollwitz, Who Was Suspended After Altercation With Umpire; Hal Shows All His Oldtime Hitting and Fielding Ability; Phillies Are Proving That They Are No Joke.

By FRANK G. MENKE.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Did an ancient poet named Pindar have "Zip" Mollwitz in mind when he penned: "How rash, how inconsiderate is rage! How swayed, oh! how fatal is our error. When to revenge precipitate we run, Revenge, that still with double force recoils back on itself, and in its own revenge while the short-lived momentary joy succeeds a train of woes, an age of torments?"

"Zip" sought revenge upon an umpire some short time ago and promptly was "shooed" from the field. Up to that very moment "Zip" had clinched the first basing job for the Cincinnati Reds. But now "his difference" is over. The enforced absence of Mollwitz brought Hal Chase into the spotlight. It gave the "peaches" a chance to show whether he was still a star. Up to that moment there was some doubt. There is none now. Chase has batted at a remarkable clip and has fielded with the same brilliancy that made him the brightest star in the first basing department some years ago.

And now it seems likely that Mollwitz may be sent to the bench permanently and Chase will succeed him as the regular initial guard for the Reds.

And all because "Zip" lost his temper and sought to avenge himself by heckling an umpire.

Dislike Gotham Real Estate. Whenever the Washington players visit the polo grounds in New York they bring along their gun, dirt for band drying purposes. They're very funny, those Senators. They claim that the soil in and around home plate in New York is "pink dirt," asserting that instead of drying the moisture in their hands it makes them slipper and the bats harder to handle.

And so when the Griffons summer into the field, each man "picks" a few handfuls of good, old reliable Washington soil in his back pocket.
